When they've cooled enough to handle, slice the fingerlings in half lengthwise. Place all potatoes in a large bowl, season with salt and pepper, then pour on the dressing, shallots and pumpkin seeds. 15 oz. can of tomato sauce
1 tsp sea salt
8 small corn or flour tortillas

For the sauce:

Heat oil in a large pan over medium heat. Add onions, garlic and jalepeños; cook until the onions are translucent. Add cumin, chili powder, and flour, whisking until browned and thickened. Stir in the tomato sauce, mixing well. Reduce heat to low, and simmer for 15 minutes. Remove sauce from heat, and pour into a large food processor or blender. Puree until smooth. Season with salt to taste.

To assemble:

Preheat oven to 350°. When warm, fold the tortillas in some aluminum foil, and set in the oven to soften for 5 minutes. While tortillas are softening, Pour ½-1 cup of enchilada sauce onto the bottom of a baking dish. Carefully remove the tortillas from the oven, and foil. Fill a tortilla with the butternut squash filling, then roll tightly, careful not to break the tortilla. Place fold side down into the baking dish. Repeat with the remaining tortillas and filling, placing each tortilla close to the other. Once they're all rolled, pour the remaining enchilada sauce onto the tortillas. They should be completely smothered in sauce. Bake for 20 minutes.
